Urban Living – Fuggerhaus Collection Spring 2018

Whether with friends or family, your home is an oasis of well-being - a retreat in the midst of the hectic life of the city. The urban future will shape our lives soon. Mega trends show that by the end of the century, most of the population will live in cities.

Bring a natural style into your own four walls with the new Fuggerhaus "Urban Living" collection. Life with all its facets is characterized by diversity, namely a harmonious coexistence on the one hand and contrasts on the other. Natural materials such as linen and cotton as well as broken up structures in warm sand and rich brown shades will, like the article Surya, be complemented by highlights in shiny gold and copper. Dry haptics such as "Marlon" and mesh structures contrast with soft flowing, shiny fabric qualities.

The collection is characterized by diversity and contrasts. Just as article "Tabea". The clean lines of the square pattern become an absolute highlight and eye-catcher due to the broken structure. For example, the classics "Versailles", "Hermitage" and "Alcazar" stand in contrast with the soft and natural fabric qualities. They can be used on both sides.

Both at the window and as an upholstery fabric Chateau skillfully puts every room in scene. As versatile as the fabrics of the collection present themselves, the various are the applications. For example, the article "Surya", which looks good at the window as a Roman blind or a side drape. These and many other types of window dressings can be ordered via the online matching up service of Indes Fuggerhaus.
